Night Shift Parade Indecent.

October 24—Rev. Father Wilson, of St. Patrick's church, has condemned some of the arrangements for the home-coming festival which he presided Saturday. He denounces the "night shift parade" as indecent, and declares that the hotelkeepers of the city only considered it as a means to get a few dollars out of the city, and that it would not be interfered with if they would not be so concerned. He calls upon the provincial authorities to suppress the parade, and says that the arrangement being carried out. He demands that the law be strictly observed. These outspoken remarks have caused something of a sensation in the capital.

they gratefully pocket the dividends of which he boasts and retain his brilliant services? Not at all. They refused this to the barons of office very promptly when the nature of his dealings became known.

Mr. Foster has been three or four times, twice by himself—in the winter, and once by the Independent Order of Foresters. Will he charge these accusers with malice or bias?

NEEDLESS ALARMS.

The Toronto Telegram says that the silence of the West regarding crop prospects betokens bad news. There is no cause for alarm though crop generally is much later than usual. In Alberta at any rate they promise an average yield, which at the prevailing prices means more money in the farmer's pocket than a bumper crop with low prices. The crop area, too, is largely increased and the aggregate crop should show a substantial increase.

Perhaps the lack of wheat may be also in part due to the fact that the resources of the West are now recognized abroad. When the world in general regarded the prairies as the lag end of a pretty poor country it required the tickles and volleys of testimony of westerners to dispel the illusion. Now that it has been dispelled they perhaps do not feel the same necessity to keep shouting.

A MAGNIFIED PERIL.

The delegates to the National Council of Women appear to have been surprised at the prospect of having to do their own dish-washing. The lack of domestic help they characterized as creating a situation "that threatens to entirely annihilate our homes." It only the homes of the delegates are referred to this may be correct. In that event the resolution might be simply a confession that the husbands of the delegates would not stand for their performances in the kitchen.

But assuming that the "national" council presumes to speak for the women of the nation, and saving the courtesy due the ladies, is there not considerable reason in their resolution? Lack of domestic help does not annihilate the homes of the past generations, and Canadian women generally today are neither less capable nor less energetic than their mothers and grandmothers. The National Council to the contrary, there are upwards of a million such women in Canada who have no intention of delegating their homes to be destroyed simply because they cannot secure less fortunate women to do their work.

ON THE SIDE.

The Korean Emperor has evacuated. The puzzle is to find out what he had left to abdicate.

The Mail and Empire says the Northern Ontario secessionists are all Liberals. A mighty poor compliment to the Conservatives of that district.

Moths stepped in Canadian Northern railway train in Northern Ontario. Next thing the mosquitoes will be carrying off the rails.

The Financial Post says it has held steadily that the "contemporary western" opinion was liable to discount. In other words, "The Continent is 'always liars.'"

The Winnipeg Telegram discusses the rumored "passing" of Hon. The Greenway from Manitoba to British Columbia, but not a word about the "passing" of Geo. W. Woods from Winnipeg to the United States.

A USEFUL COMMISSION.
 "Judge Kilham is a wonder, and the results of his work on the Railway Commission are marvellous. The shillsholes of railway managers are torn to shreds and the character of fifty years reversed seemingly without compensation. It is startling reality. And through it all the chairman of this important body seems to have retained the regard of the railway men who he is so radically reforming. He has been taught that it was cheaper for the railways to haul freight a thousand miles than five hundred. Just why, nobody could understand until the railway men saw the results. However, the doctrine was so well sustained in practice that the shipping companies believe that it was true. Shippers in London, Stratford, St. Thomas and Sarnia did not expect to get as cheap rates to Montreal or Chicago. This doctrine of the long haul came in, and the railways did not afford a cheap short haul. It was, therefore, a terrible shock to the community when last week the Commission told the long haul men up in Canada, not to get rid of him. At the same time, the shillsholes of the shippers of Ontario looked about with eyes and mouths wide open when they heard that the long haul men were to stay. Wonderful Kilham."

Another body has pronounced on Mr. Foster's doctrine, and one against which he can launch no explanation of political bias—the Independent Order of Foresters. Did they approve of his management of their funds? Did

CROSSING OF DIFFERENT VARIETIES OF GRAINS.

Prof. Zavitz, of O. A. C., Has Produced Smutless Oats, Barley That is a Big Yielder.

Prof. C. A. Zavitz, of the Ontario Agricultural College, has been experimenting with different varieties of oats for some time past and has at last originated a variety that is not subject to smut. Prof. Zavitz estimates that in the Province of Ontario alone nearly two million dollars is lost every year by the farmers owing to smut in the oat fields. He is not absolutely certain the new variety, which is yet without a name, will resist smut as the new seed, which is under good conditions, exhibit the fatal weakness against the invasion of the smut spore.

Prof. Zavitz is also experimenting and crossing different varieties of spring wheat which will be largely free from smut, long, compact head, without a beard and of a high milling quality. He is experimenting to evolve the ideal variety of wheat or one that will combine the best qualities of every variety. Some bearded varieties have not the requisite length of head to be good yielders, while many good yielders have bearded heads. Then, again, a wheat that may be a good yielder may be poor for milling qualities.

The crossing is a tedious and delicate operation. While the flower of one variety is green the stamens are taken out and the pollen from the stamens of another variety is inserted. The head, when this operation has been performed, is wrapped in tissue paper in order that the pollen of other varieties may not fall upon it and spoil the experiment. The grain is allowed to ripen and the seeds over the next year as the results of crossing are discernible.

Out and Barley Mixture.

Another problem of an important economic value to the farmer, especially in districts where mixed farming of barley and oats for feeding purposes. It is a well known fact that mixed sowings of grains or grasses seldom bear better than a sowing of any one variety. But the difficulty has been in sowing oats and barley together so that they ripen at different periods. Prof. Zavitz thinks that he will succeed in obtaining a variety of barley that will ripen ten or fifteen days later and come in with the oats.

Barley, Barley.

Barley is preferred by all farmers but it is a poor yielder. The heavy producing varieties are all bearded. The preference is now being changed in crossing the famous Maudsley barley with its extremely coarse heads and a bearded variety. The results so far are encouraging and will no longer be a poor yielder and at the same time a good producer will be evolved.

HITS ICEBERG IN MIDOCEAN

North German Lloyd Steamship
Collides And Withstands Impact.

New York, July 25.—With more than a thousand passengers on board, including the German ambassador to the United States, Baron Speck Von Sternberg, the Baroness Von Sternberg, Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge T. Gerry and their two daughters, the Kronprinz Wilhelm, one of the crack Atlantic liners of the North German Lloyd line, met from Bremen, struck an immense iceberg while in mid-ocean on her last voyage.

The steamship was only slightly damaged. She struck the berg at glancing blow and was running at reduced speed at the time in a heavy fog. The crash was enough to bring the steamship to a sudden stop, however, throwing the passengers to the decks and causing the most intense excitement.

Women in the staterooms fell on the decks and prayed, while others screamed and fainted. The ship's officers did their utmost to quiet the confusion, but were unable to do so for several hours.

According to Mrs. Gerry, there was alarm on the vessel for the remainder of the night.

The collision occurred about a o'clock in the evening. The decks were crowded with the passengers, who could not find refuge in the movable car-playing divisions, because of the foghorn, which blew continuously and made everybody apprehensive of danger.

Fear Danger.

"When the steamship struck the iceberg," said Mrs. Gerry, "there was a terrible grinding and crunching noise. Big pieces of ice fell all over the forward deck and everybody thought he could hear the ship falling into the ship. I was greatly frightened, as was everybody else on board. Nobody slept for the remainder of the night. We all sat in deck chairs except the children, who went to bed. I must say that the ship's officers could not have acted better under such trying circumstances. They devoted most of their attention to the stateroom passengers, poor things, who were terribly scared."

In Midocean.

The collision occurred when the vessel was practically in midocean. Captain Bieker said that the iceberg lay low in the water, which accounted for the fact that the echo of the foghorn was not heard, something which sailors always listen for in a fog.

The vessel was delayed for about fifteen minutes. When she arrived at her pier it was seen that the point on the port bow was scraped off. The Kronprinz Wilhelm is the first steamship, it is said, that has struck an iceberg and stayed afloat.

JOHN D. PRAISES TRUSTS.

Oil Kings Says Combinations Have Created Opportunities.

New York, July 25.—John D. Rockefeller has come out with an emphatic statement that the result of the formation of trusts has been to offer far wider opportunities to young men of the present day than those of any other generation.

His view of the matter appears in an interview in the Cosmopolitan Magazine for August.

In the old days," Rockefeller said to the interviewer, "before the union of intellects, manhood and money made any business venture precarious, but aside from that, through lack of time, opportunity and capital the young man was kept within a very restricted field. It is combination and capital that has produced the capital to open up mines and factories, to build great industrial plants, and the monster wholesale and retail establishments. It is combination and capital that have sent the railroads shooting in a thousand different directions over the continent.

Rockefeller tells the story of his own humble start in life and gives the following advice to the youth of America:

"Save your money."

"Extravagance," our national curse, The French," he said, "are the richest in the world, because they are most economical."

Above wealth, Rockefeller places health. "The man with nothing but health is rich compared with the man of wealth without health."

As for education, he thinks the training of the technical schools is far better than that of the colleges in fitting a boy for the duties and responsibilities of life.

THE WHEAT MARKET IS VERY NERVOUS.

Winnipeg, July 25.—Unresponsive cables from Liverpool were responsible for lower prices on all grain markets yesterday. Prices were a coil under Monday's closing figures.

Black rust reports from Minnesota apparently have not alarmed the trade very much, as Minneapolis prices are the weakest on the American list. Trade in Winnipeg continues good and chiefly of a scalping nature, although there appears to be some changing from September to October going on at prevailing prices.

Extensive fluctuations are confined within the one cent range. Receipts of wheat were 429 cars for two days, as compared with 137 for one day last year. Weather in the prairie provinces has been fine and moderately warm. Temperatures of 80 were recorded at some points. During Monday night there were showers and thunderstorms at several points in Manitoba. Reports from Southwestern Manitoba are quite bullish, some saying the farmers are plowing up wheat lands and the average will be small. In Saskatchewan conditions are much better and the crops are much better than the crop to be in good condition.

CAMPAIGN FOR SIMPLE FOOD

Has Caught On In London.
Famous Chef Says It's All Right.

London, July 25.—The theory that we spend too much on food of the wrong sort has caught the imagination of rich and poor.

"I find active enthusiasm for the reform," said Miss May Yeates, "as the result of the meeting in the Mansion House, and I think, with assistance, we shall carry everything before us in our campaign. We are helped a great deal by the fact that the movement has the support of so many people who do not need to economize in their expenditure on food, but are living more simply because it is more healthy."

Hermann Senn, the great chef, who instructs chefs, confirmed this view. He declared yesterday that the trend of modern cookery of the highest class is in the direction of simple and natural food. "All our best dishes today are simple. To make a relation as a chef you must prepare food in such a way that natural juices and flavors are retained. The dish that is highly seasoned betrays bad cooking."

Wholemeal bread, which the reformers advocate, is used by Miss Senn as a basis of cakes and croissants.

Among well-known women who are practicing and advocating the simple life at the dinner table are the Duchess of Grafton, the Marchioness of Omole, Lady Windsor, Lady Whitby, Lady Langthorpe, Lady Henry Somerset and Lady Dorothy Neville.

Several flourishing restaurants and shops testify to a growing trend for simple food among city people.

For men following voluntary campaigns, said Hermann Senn, the secretary of the Food Reform League, "we provide artificial, cereals, vegetables, fruit, porridge and chesnuts. Men who do not eat meat find all the nourishment they need in wholemeal bread, lentils, peas, beans, cheese and rice."

The co-operation of the teachers in the schools and all local associations for the betterment of the health of the people is being sought in several localities. Reform dinner will be the first scene of the new campaign.

STRIKE AGAINST MOTHERHOOD

Movement Among French Women
In Opposition To Large Families.

Paris, July 25.—One of the strange agitators in the history of France—or any other nation—is now in progress in Normandy and Brittany. It is an appeal to the women of the nation to "strike against motherhood."

The agitation has been three years in coming to a head. A half-dozen women started a league in the little town of Bouhaix, in northern France, and year by year it has grown until the membership runs into the thousands, and league is now strong enough to make its pronouncements public.

The propaganda is centered in the towns of Lille, Tourcoing and Mouscron. The walls of these towns and of the villages and hamlets nearby are covered with flaming sheets, proclaiming a general strike against increasing the population, and begging women to refrain from motherhood.

Hundreds of women apostles of the movement are also travelling through the country holding meetings for men and women and distributing pamphlets and leaflets.

ADEQUATE COAL SUPPLY PROMISED

Stocks At Head Of Lakes Being Rapidly Increased.

Port William, July 25.—"The coal situation in Port Arthur and Port William is rosy," is the manner in which coal dock officials at the head of the lakes expressed their optimism when seen by a Telegram representative about the prospective supply for the Canadian West during the winter. At the Canadian Pacific coal docks in Port William there is now on hand 125,000 tons of soft coal and 40,000 tons of hard coal for Winnipeg dealers.

The average Parisienne who has made a marriage of convenience does not want children, and if she is frank she will tell why.

The younger generation of married women have outgrown the old-fashioned notion that the chief end of marriage is to have and to bring up children and daughters.

Children are a nuisance, they will tell you. When you have before you a child, you are not free to go out to theatre, you cannot dance, you must stay at home and mind the children.

There exists in Paris a group known as the Neo-Malthusians, whose avowed object is the limitation of families. They publish periodical literature and pamphlets and give lectures, and the result of their efforts is that in certain intellectual quarters in Paris the family is very often limited to the husband and wife.

The campaign against motherhood is chiefly due to Mme. Nellie Roussel, a handsome young woman of no mean intellectual powers.

Even those who are violently opposed to her doctrine admit that she is sincere and that her campaign is inspired by humanitarian motives.

Mme. Roussel has three children of her own, but contends that her husband and wife have sufficient to care for, and that if they had any more they could not have any.

She thinks that the working class have far too many children, and apparently her sisters in the north of France, where large families are more common than in Paris, are sympathetic with her on this question.

AN APPEAL FOR HAU.

Decision of Trial Court Will Be Submitted to Supreme Tribunal.
Karlsruhe, Germany, July 25.—The settlement over the Hau case is subsiding. The people, however, continue to crowd the newspaper offices, to buy pamphlets, issued by the press, which contain a full report of the proceedings. Newspapers throughout the country have begun a lively discussion of the singular features of the case, and the opinion that it is one of the most remarkable murder cases of half a century is widespread.

The rioting of last night subsided as the crowd had been driven from the vicinity of the court house to the more remote streets. Those persons who were taken into custody during the disorders were discharged this morning. The captain of a company of soldiers was struck by a Hau, who attended the trial, in vent of the court with resignation. It did not come as a surprise to him, in fact, the overwhelming crowd of spectators had led him to expect it. An appeal against the sentence of death to the supreme court will be lodged with the proper authorities in a few days. The court has only one technical objection affecting the proceedings of the present trial. If the decision is adverse Hau will be remanded to his prison cell.
